Heeby Jeeby Comix #3 is our third book, with comics created by David, Bob, and Dan. This issue offers up eerie stories, glow-in-the-dark boogers, ice cream capers—there's even a comic about dinosaurs! It's yet another dose of funny comics for all ages.

DANGERZONE DAVE VS THE REALISTIC DOLPHIN

Like most kids, I love to draw.

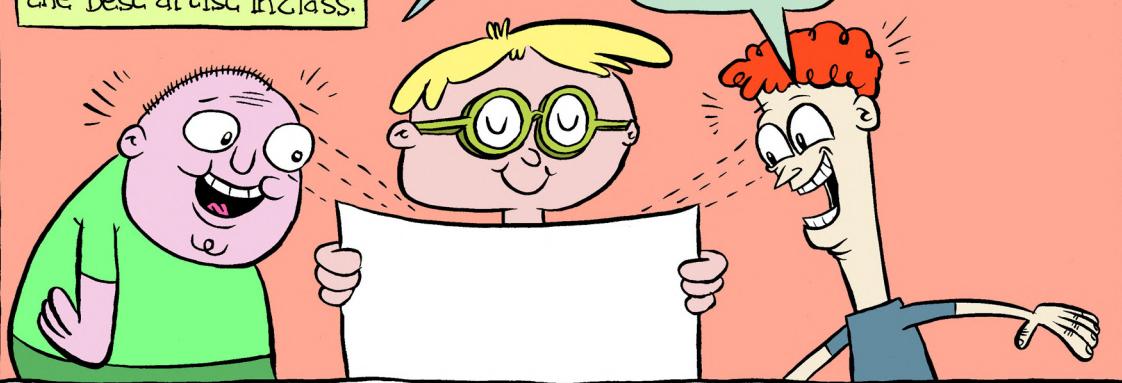

There's nothing better than when the teacher gives up for the day and allows us a few final minutes to make art.

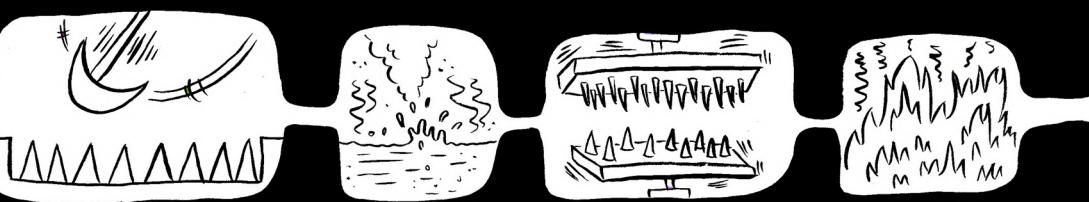

And not to brag, but my friends think I'm the best artist in class.

Cool!

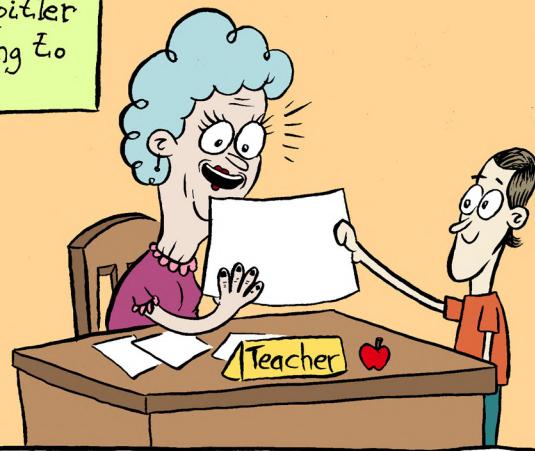

Whoa! A triple buzz saw!

I created this guy called Dangerzone Dave. He goes on adventures. And no matter how dangerous it gets, he always survives. He's pretty rad.

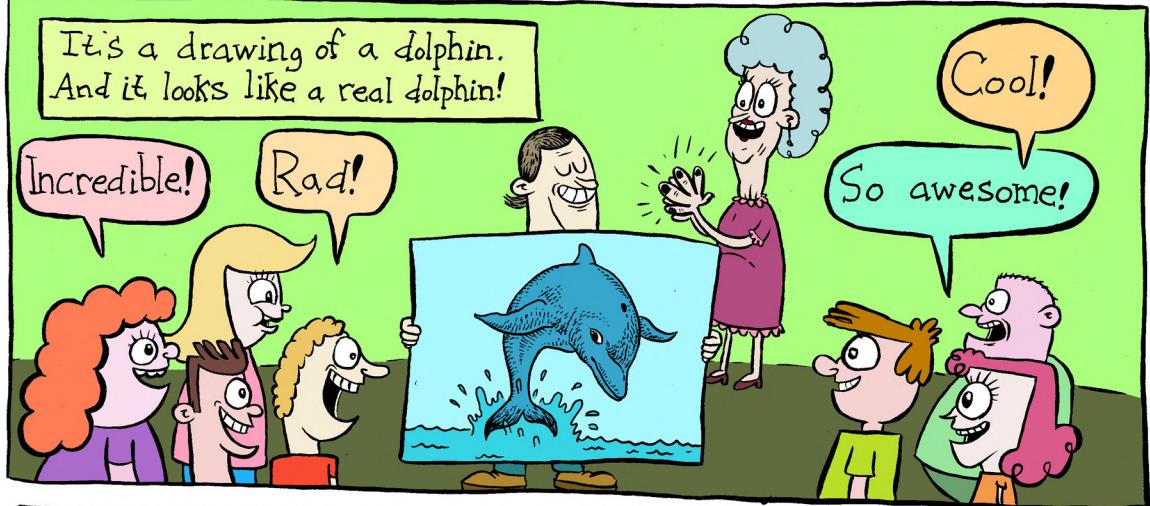

One day, Lucas Spitler showed his drawing to our teacher.

She loved it.

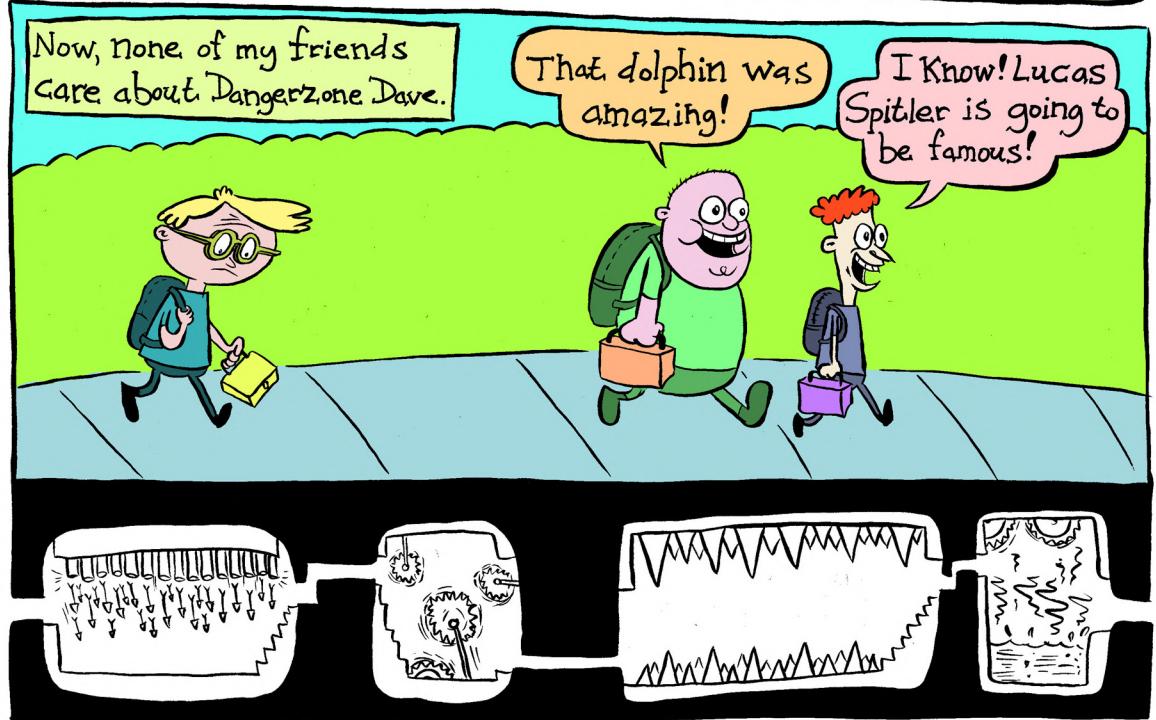

It's a drawing of a dolphin. And it looks like a real dolphin!

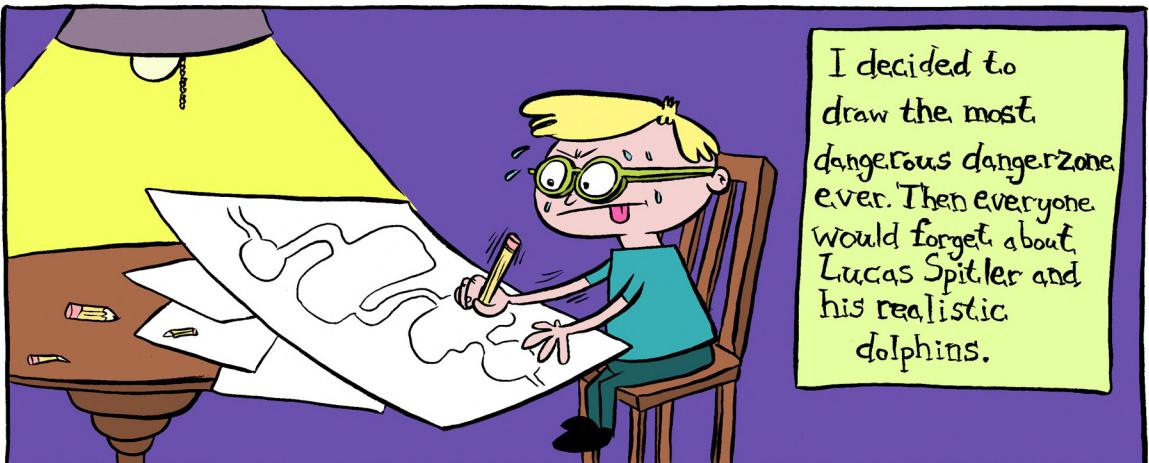

Now, none of my friends care about Dangerzone Dave.

That dolphin was amazing!

I know! Lucas Spitler is going to be famous!

I decided to draw the most dangerous dangerzone ever. Then everyone would forget about Lucas Spitler and his realistic dolphins.

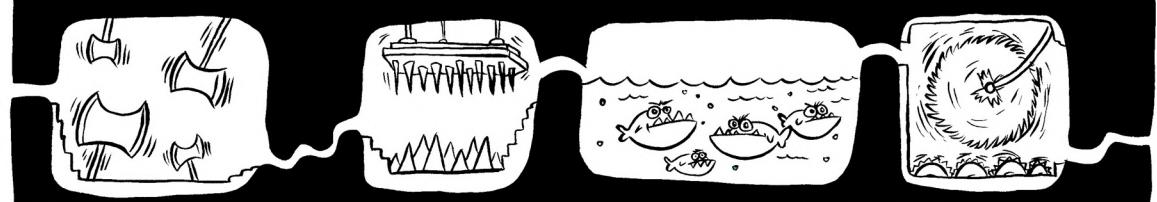

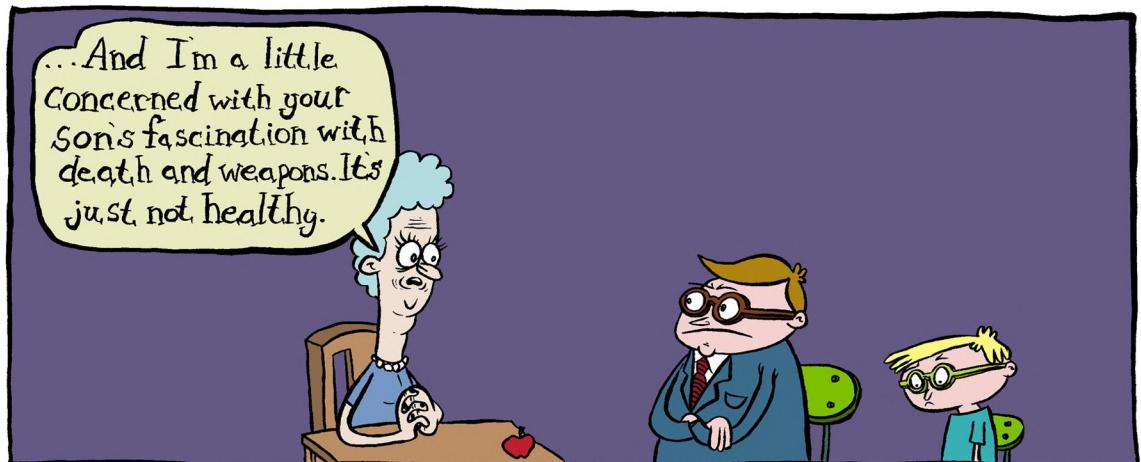

I stayed up late working on this masterpiece. It took five pieces of poster board!

When I showed my teacher, she didn't like it at all.

Oh my.

I try to draw a dolphin that looks like a real dolphin, but I can't do it. I even try tracing from a magazine. Then I try other animals. No luck.

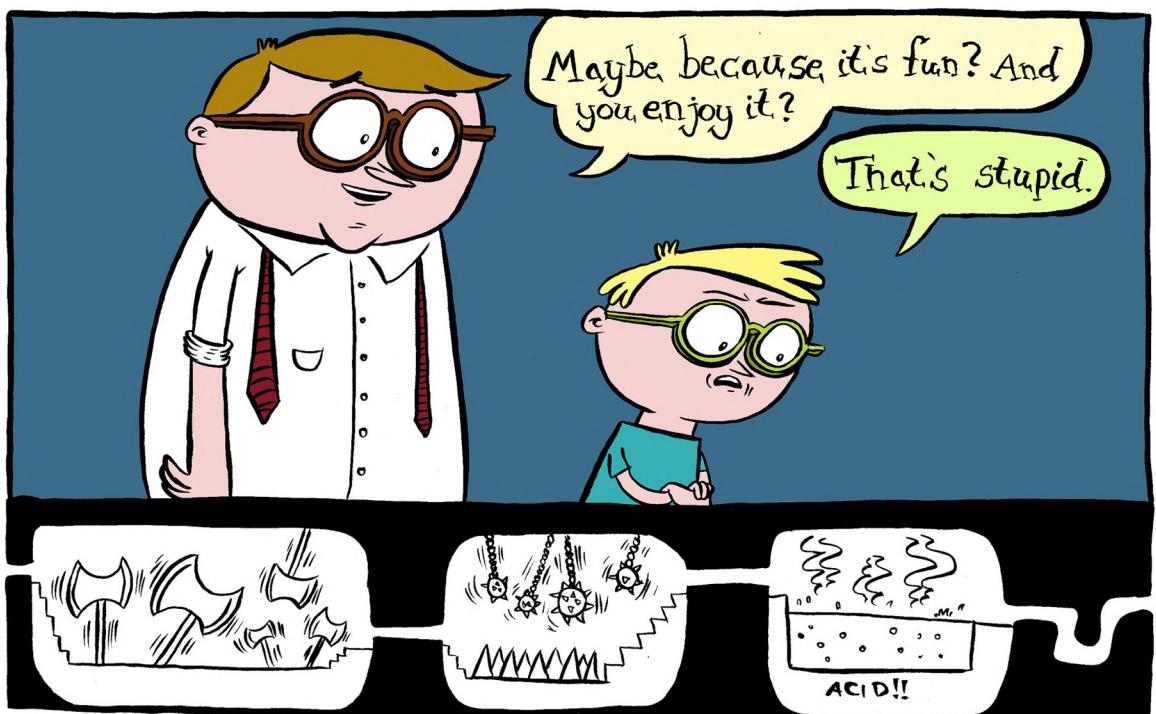

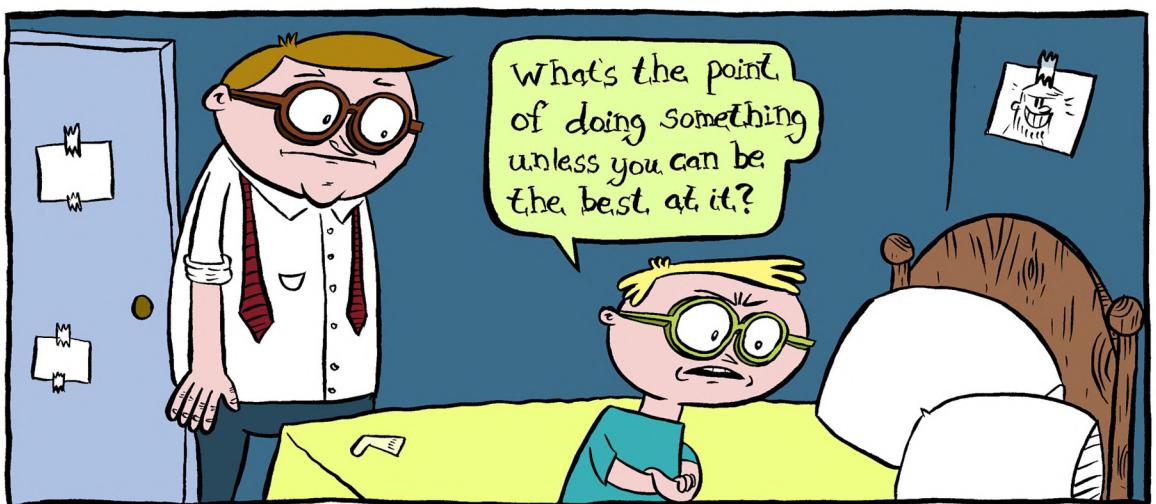

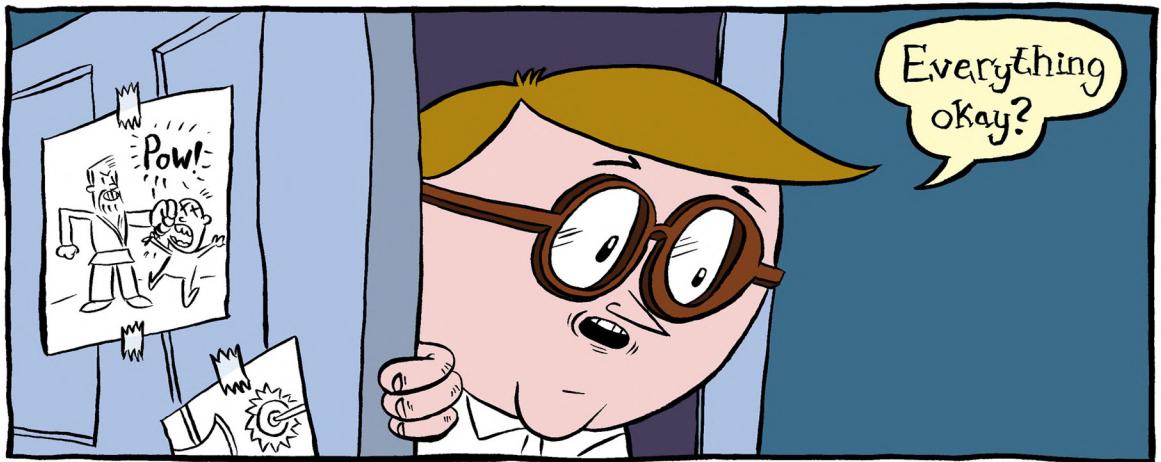

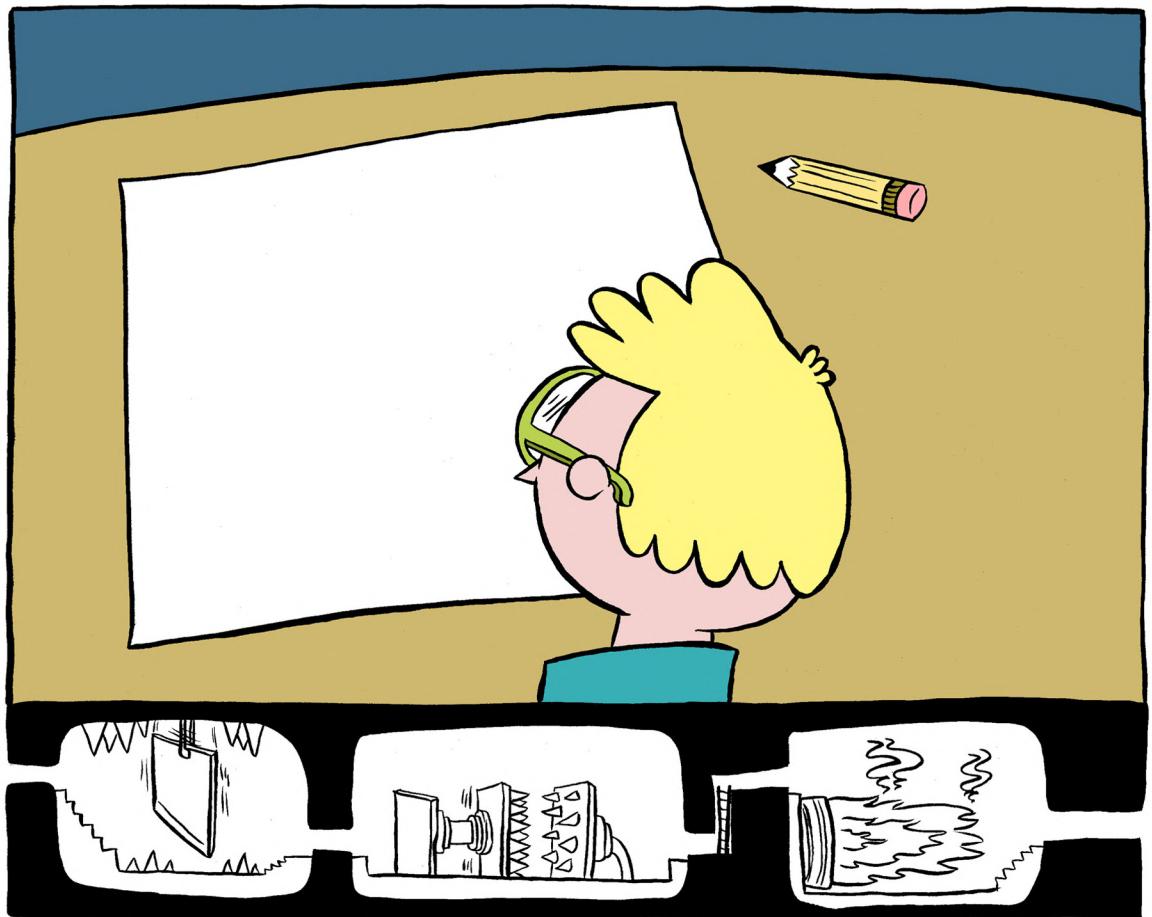

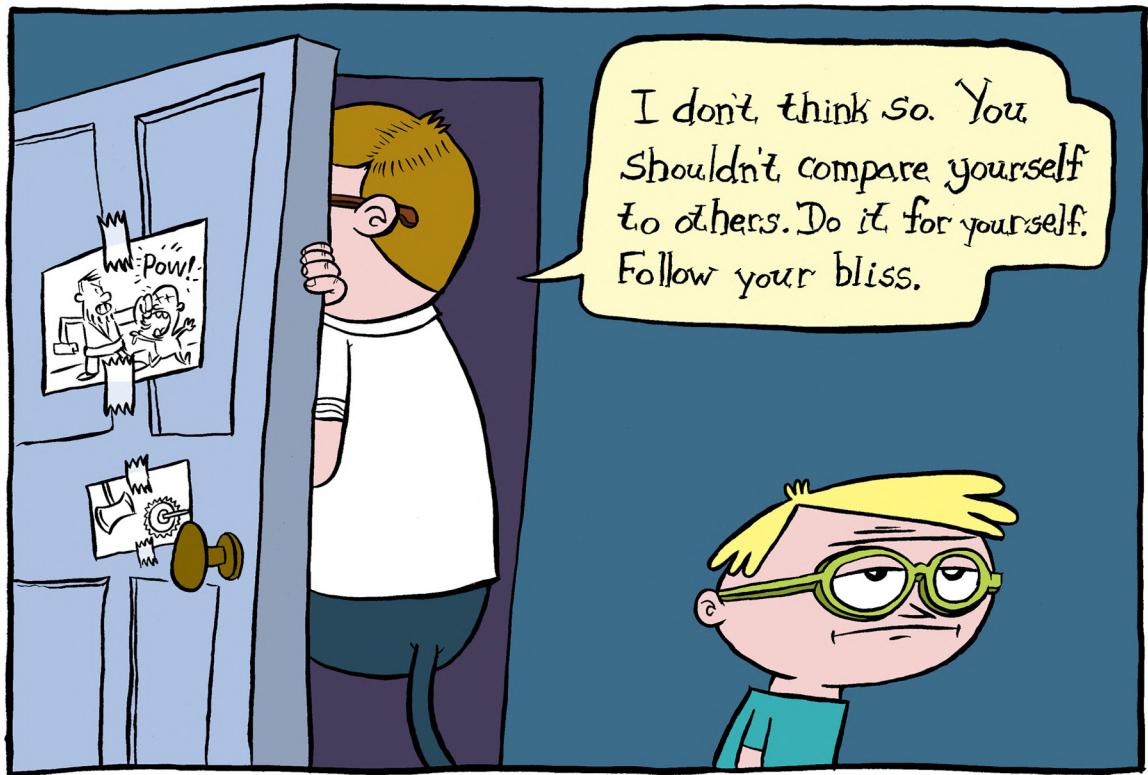

I try to draw realistic people, and they're even harder.

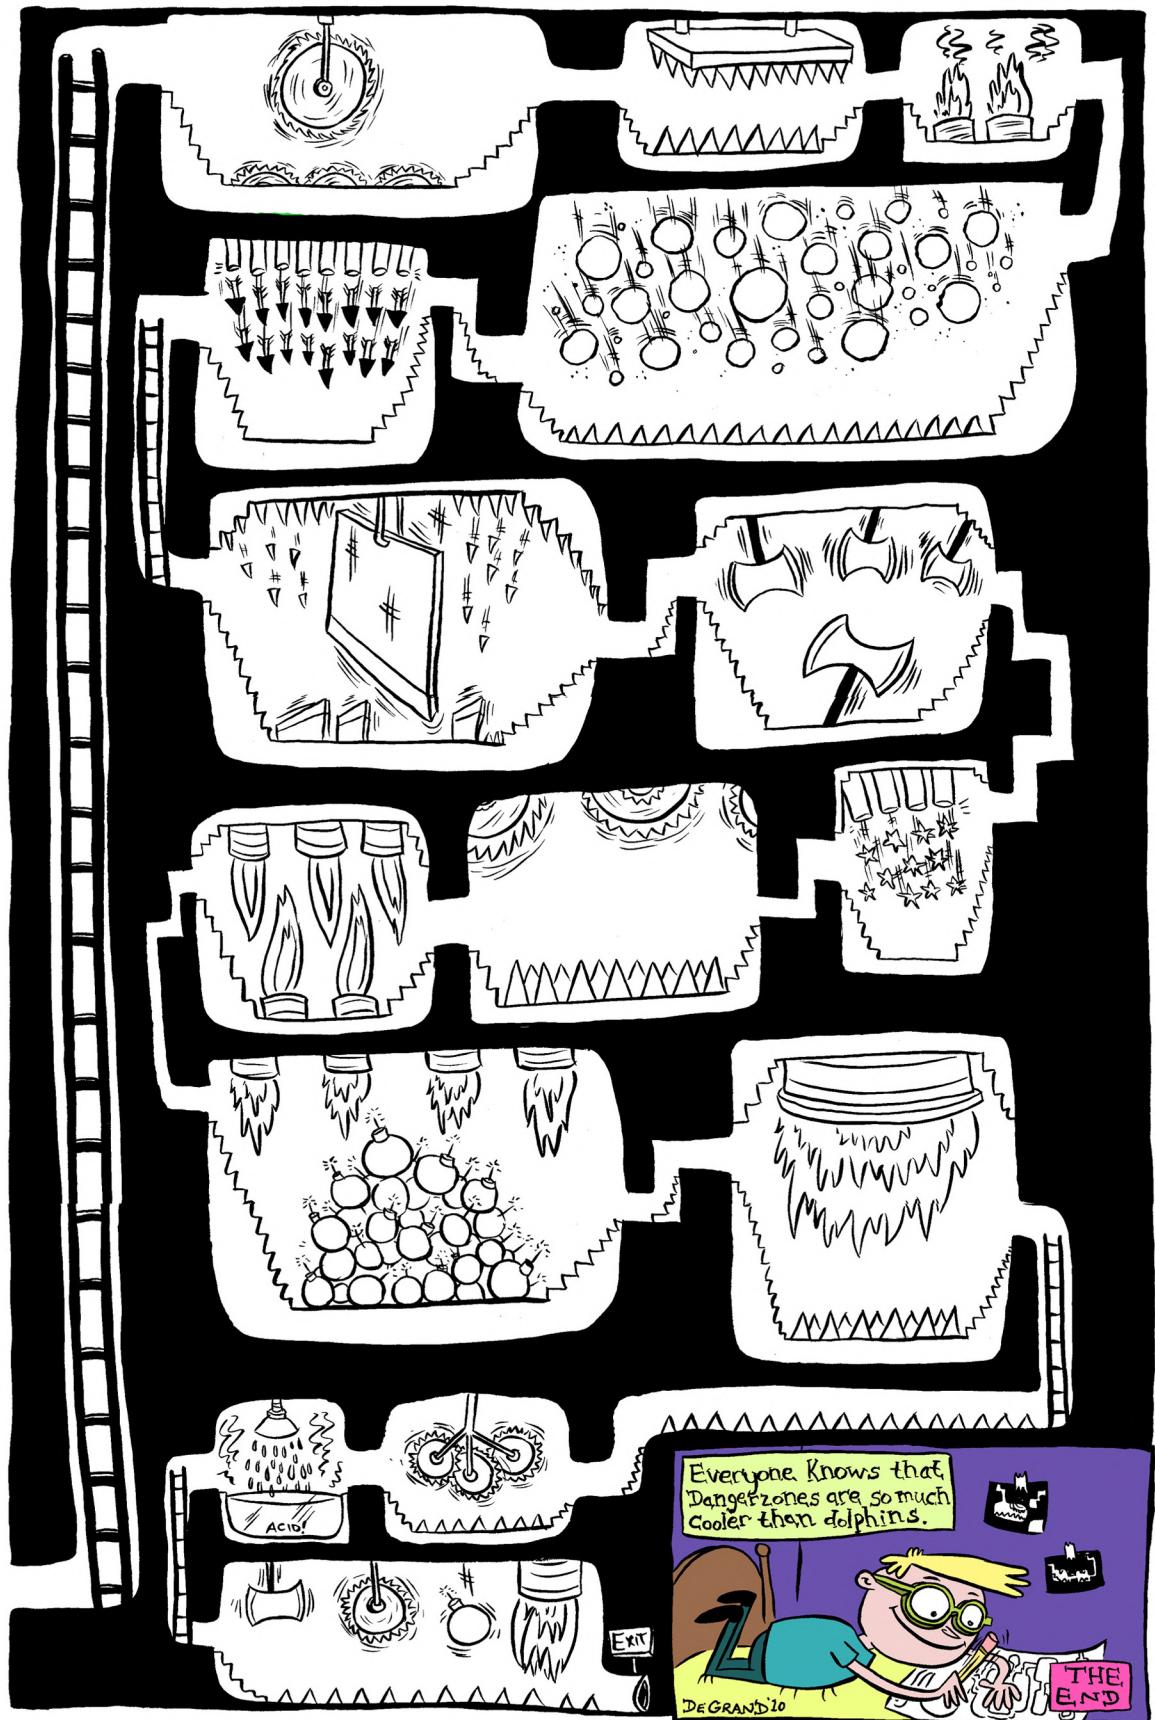

All I can draw are spikes, bombs, knives, ninja stars, and other dangerous stuff.

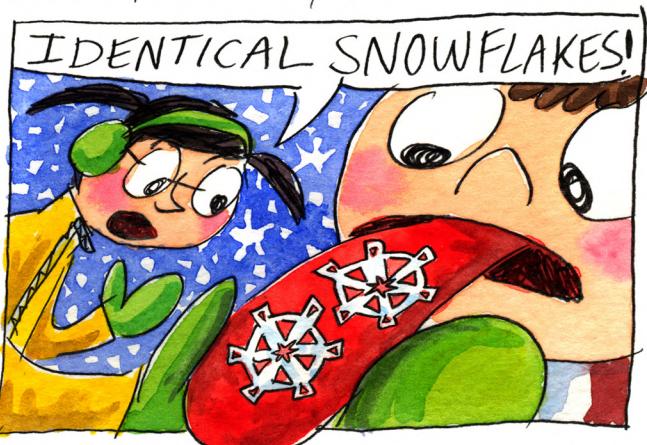

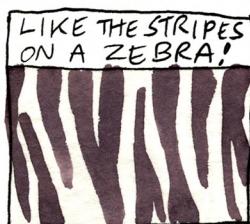

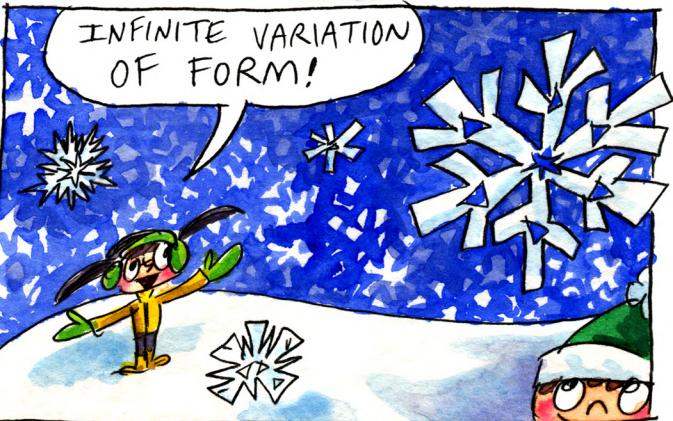

AAAAAAAARRGH!
